Dear Fred,

Pawtucket Hydropower wishes to recertify with LIHI.

Nothing has changed since the original application except that we are engaged in a cooperative agreement with the Rhode Island Department of Environmental Management (RIDEM) and the U.S. Department of Agriculture Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) to develop fish passage on the Blackstone River. There is still uncertainty about design, total cost, and funding sources for this fish passage project but we have been to date a fully cooperating partner with the agencies and NGO's.

The following agencies and NGO's are involved with the fish passage project. Andy Lipsky of NRCS is the most familiar with the status of it and our role.
